VOLUME V. CARMEL, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1937. NUMBER 15.

We are indebted this week to City Councilman Bernard Rowntree for the quaint illustrations on this page. Back in the Gay Nineties, this Monterey real estate concern was advertising Carmel, long before Powers and Devendorf decided to make it an art colony. Our only hotel during the horse and buggy days is still in existence. It was moved back, built around and is now a part of our Pine Inn.

Naturalist Here

"She shall have music wherever she goes," applies very well to "Petaga." For if there ever was a person so attune to the music and rhythm of nature, that is every where we turn, it is "Petaga."

"Petaga" brought her inexhaustible store of enthusiasm to Carmel last week, and generously gave to all and sundry who attended her courses on nature study at the Girl Scout house. "Petaga," Mrs. Elizabeth Price, is the nature director for the Big Tree region of Girl Scouts, and travels up and down the coast sharing her great knowledge of botany and zoology and instilling in her listeners a new appreciation of everything alive under the sun.

She advocates, in her course of lessons in appreciation of nature, the smelling and feeling of plant life which of course is grand up to a certain point if one isn't susceptible to poison oak and hay fever. However, with care and discrimination her plan works very well, and it is shocking to learn how terribly unaware we are of the beautiful things around us.

"Petaga" found a kindred soul in the Peninsula's own Mrs. R. L. Robinson and made the Scouts and leaders more conscious of how fortunate they are to have her as a nature instructor. Though possessing a great amount of scientific knowledge, they both are distinguished for their simplicity of approach to their subject.

Mr. and Mrs. Colden Whitman spent several days in Carmel last week, having driven down from their ranch at Yosemite. While in Carmel they were extensively entertained by their many friends.

* * *

Miss Audrey Marten returned to her home in Pebble Beach, Monday, after having spent the week end in San Francisco.

* * *

Mrs. Dorothy Green Chapman accompanied by daughter Susie, and son Bill, drove to San Francisco Friday to spend several days.

* * *

Visiting Miss Laura Diersen of Carmelo street, is Mrs. William Clifford McDonald Jr., of Hangchow, China. As Jean Morrison, before her marriage, Mrs. McDonald was a frequent visitor to Carmel several years ago.

Visitor from China

Mrs. William Clifford McDonald arrived in Carmel a few days ago from China where her husband is wearing a Chinese uniform and dropping bombs upon enemies of the official government.

Alberta Wright, daughter of Mildred Sahlstrom Wright, Carmel violin virtuoso, leaves May 22nd in the company of several fellow students at the University of California, and fellow residents of the International House, for an extended trip through Mexico. Their ultimate destination will be Mexico City, where they plan to stay for a year or so, taking courses at the University of Mexico.

Myron Brinig, author of the best seller, "The Sisters," and columnist extraordinary of The Californian, left Saturday for Hollywood where he expects to live temporarily before sailing for foreign ports.

* * *

Mrs. Jenjamin Dorcy and her daughter, Miss Doris Dorcy, have taken a house in Carmel where they plan to make their future home. Mrs. Dorcy is the mother of Lawrence and Biddle Dorcy, who are well known in Carmel, having been residents of the Peninsula, off and on, for many years.

New Art Group

In "The Shack" adjoining the Art Association Gallery on Dolores street, a very gay and delightful party was given Friday night by the younger artists of the community.

Begun under the instigation of Mrs. Ethel Warren, curator of the Gallery, these weekly Friday night gatherings are fast becoming an institution. The charter members are allowed to bring one guest each, and the cost of the metal is shared equally. The volunteer cook changes every week as well as the menu.

It is the fond hope of the members that these weekly parties will broaden the acquaintanceship of young artists in the colony, thereby stimulating interest in the youth movement of the Art Association. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hedger, Mr. and Mrs. Remo Scardigli, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. George Sideneck, Mrs. Linda Sargeant Simpson, Mrs. Ethel Warren, Mrs. Amelie Waldo, Mr. Dudley Carter, Mr. Henry Dickenson and Mr. Herbert Heron.

In Concert

Saturday evening, in Frank Wickman's Carmel Highlands Studio, Radiana Pazmore, dramatic soprano, who is pictured above on her arrival in Carmel Saturday morning, gave a song recital before a large and distinguished audience of Peninsula admirers. Miss Pazmore, who plays her own accompaniment, has given of her talent at numerous musical affairs on the Peninsula, having been soloist of the 1936 Bach Festival, and it was in appreciation of her generosity that Miss Laura Diers-sen and Mrs. Willard Wheeler arranged this musical treat.

A new star is rising. In fact two new stars are rising; at least according to rumor. Bonnie Cockburn (Mrs. Ranald) and her father Pete Winslow are the names of the stars. For further particulars ask Peter Burk and Jack Williamson, camera man and director, respectively.

FIRE CHIEF INJURED

Someone called Fire Chief Robert Leidig late Friday night. The chief thought that it was a fire alarm and did an acrobatic bounce out of bed. He landed upon a rug on a hardwood floor.

During the next split second Chief Leidig did some more acrobatics and landed in such a position and with such force that it was necessary for him to go to a chiropractor Saturday morning to have his spinal column realligned.

A congenial group motored down the coast Thursday, for a picnic lunch. In the party were Colonel and Mrs. Edward Seeley-Smith, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dixon, Mrs. Frederick Burt, Mrs. Margaret Heebner, and Mr. George Heathorne.

* * *

General and Mrs. Daniel Hand of San Antonio street have had as their house guest Mrs. Hand's sister, Mrs. Laura Foley of Pasadena. Wednesday Mrs. Hand and Mrs. Foley drove to San Francisco where they spent several days.

* * *

Carmel bid adieu to some "old-timers" Thursday, when Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hale and their two children left this metropolis for ranch life near Chico.

The Californian

Formerly the Carmel Sun
Published Every Wednesday

PALMER T. BEAUDETTE, Editor and Publisher
MARIE LORD BEAUDETTE, Business Manager
JACK WILLIAMSON, Associate Editor
CHARLOTTE LAWRENCE, Society and Art Editor

Entered as second-class matter, February 3, 1933, at the postoffice at Carmel, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The Californian, formerly The Carmel Sun, was adjudicated a Newspaper of General Circulation by the Superior Court of Monterey County, California, October 7, 1936.

Subscription rate $2 per year.

WHY NOT?

Sooner or later, some enterprising business man is going to awaken to the fact that Carmel needs a club for Carmelites.

Summer is at hand and those of us who lived through the Easter week invasion of semi-nudists haven't forgotten that we had to go over to Monterey if we wanted anything to eat or drink. Our usual haunts were packed and jammed with strangers.

If our various restaurants and tap rooms can survive during the cold and rainy months upon the patronage of real Carmelites, a Carmelite club should survive throughout the year.

We are human and when we want to eat or drink we don't want to stand in line to await service. If someone wants to start such a club somewhere in the business district, we have a hunch that it will be a success.

Snapshots

Perhaps you didn't notice, but this column resembled something between a bank night drawing and a cut-up puzzle last week. A bank night drawing because the paragraphs were apparently put in a drum and pulled out blind-folded and a cut-out puzzle because they had to be cut out and rearranged to make any sense whatsoever. After some time we found the correct 1, 2, 6, 3, 5, 4, 7 combination.

* * *

We hope we have it straight this week. However, what more than the acquisition of a job as secretary of the Carmel Mission Ranch Club is keeping Happy Whyte on the Monterey Peninsula? Our guess is that Ray Burns with whom she has been going places lately is the real reason.

* * *

We've also got a suspicion that it won't be very long before Nancy Cocke and Carl von Saltza announce their engagement. There's even an unconfirmed rumor running round that they have set a wedding day in July.

* * *

June has been mentioned as a likely month for the wedding of Beverly Tait and Dale Leidig who have been contemplating the plunge into matrimony for some time and Dick Bare and Barbara Joyce are also said to be planning a trip to the altar this summer.

That's quite a lot of prospective marriages for Carmelites and we give then one and all our heartiest congratulations.

* * *

So undoubtedly would Dr. Edward M. Pallette, president of the California State Medical Association, if he happened to know them. Speaking before 1200 of the state's leading physicians and surgeons gathered for their 66th annual conference at Del Monte this week, Doctor Pallette declared:

"Wars will continue and they may disrupt the world. We may be overwhelmed by the load of the defective and incompetent among us, and our civilization may go the way of all its predecessors.

"But those young men of good heredity, who marry the right young women of good heredity, may rest assured that they will rise above the wreck and ruin and build for themselves and their posterity great, and happy, and heroic lives."

* * *

It is our belief that the people, in the long run, will manage to improve the human race and its institutions without too much dictator leadership.

* * *

One of these days the world is going to be a better place in which to live and the credit will be due to those who do not stand rigidly upon their legal rights.

With the Amateur Photographers

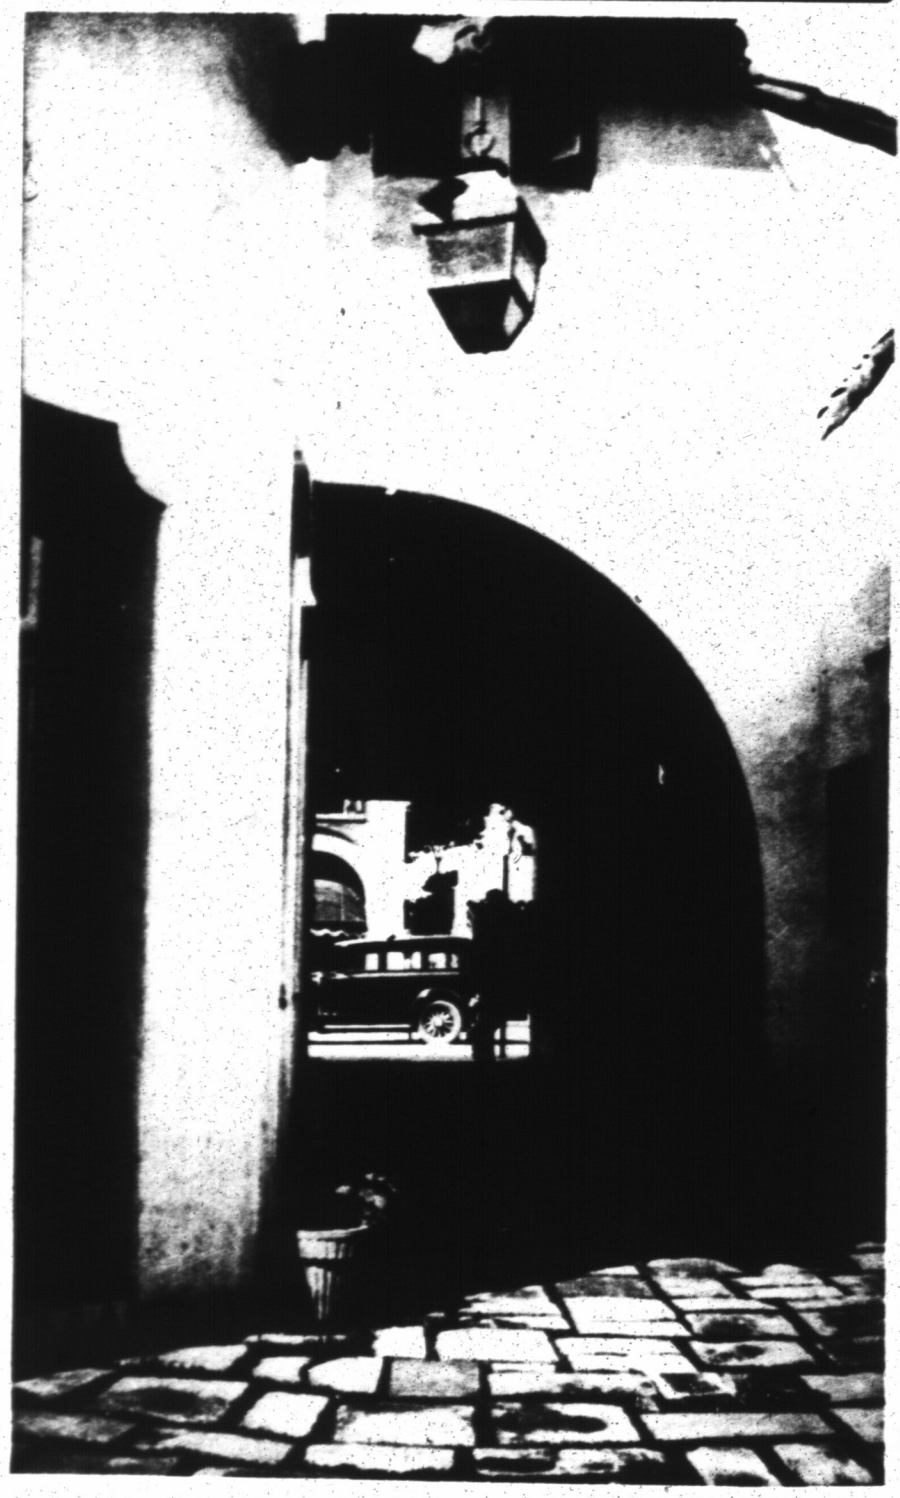
These Amateurs

Something is going to have to be done about Lloyd Weer and that camera of his if other amateur photographers in the Village are to have a chance for our weekly $5 prize.

He even takes his camera to the movies with him. The little picture above of Margot Graham was made directly from the screen.

However, the prize for this week is going to go to Charlotte Morgan for the large picture to your right. She found this composition in the patio at the corner of Seventh and Dolores streets.

Just to make sure that this competition is confined to amateurs, we are going to insist that negatives and not prints are submitted. We will make our own enlargements and return your negatives in good condition. There were some beautiful prints laid on our desk this week by "amateurs." One of these was a view in Yosemite and we happened to have purchased the same picture for 75 cents during our last visit to the Valley.



Camera Club Meets

The newly formed Carmel Camera Club is to meet at the Pine Inn at 8 o'clock Thursday night with Jack Jordan as host. Several of the charter members who received their first assignment of "a tree" are expected to present their prints for criticism and the meeting will be featured by a discussion of the various problems encountered by the photographers.

Membership in the organization has increased to 25 and several other amateur and professional photographers have signified their intention of joining the group. The meeting tomorrow night is open to anyone who has a camera and is interested in making better pictures.

All we ask any business man to do, when he wishes to advertise, is to try the results of an advertisement in The Californian.

* * *

Our own idea is that the democracies of the world, meaning those nations where popular elections are effective, should stand together.

Unusual Picture

One of the most unusual photographs ever exhibited in Carmel is on display in tht window of the Carmel Realty Company.

It was made by Tirey Ford, amateur photographer of San Francisco, for the purpose of advertising the Mission Tract for his brother, Byington Ford. The picture is made up of 27 different photographs and forms a complete panorama from the point where the pictures were made, at the corner of Dolores and Santa Lucia.

The camera was mounted upon a tripod and moved a little after each exposure until a complete circle had been made. Corum Jackson is responsible for fitting the prints together.

People who think they are too smart to be governed by the customs of their race are over-estimating their smartness.

* * *

Every community has public-spirited citizens who generously give their time to the betterment of their neighborhood.

Clean Up Beach

Three dens of Carmel Cubs, future Boy Scouts of America, turned out Thursday afternoon to clean up the litter on the beach and the sand dunes. This picture was made a few moments before they were given the signal which sent them into action.

Celebrating his seventh birthday, Master Lew McCreery invited several of his young cronies to a luncheon and movie party Saturday afternoon. Those who attended the "stag" party were Roddy Dewar, Martin Irwin, Dick Frolli, Buddy Glover and Dickie Cox.

* * *

A very gay group gathered at the Cypress Point Club Saturday, for luncheon. In the number were Viscount and Viscountess Mandeville, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. T. Smith of New York, Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Byers of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crocker of Beverly Hills, Mrs. Lent Hooker, Miss Jean McKelvie, Mr. John Drum and Mr. Winston Frost.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton and Mrs. Ethel P. Young entertained at their Pebble Beach home Sunday evening at a barbecue supper. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Griffin and Mrs. Roland Moore.

In Track Meet

The Peninsula's first annual public school track meet was held Saturday afternoon in the Monterey high school stadium.

Sunset school was well represented under Coach Hull's direction, by 25 boys who participated in the various classes of events during the meet.

Those who were entered were: In Class A, A. Woo, third in the 80 yard dash, C. Gansel, H. Johnson, H. Levinson, B. Gansel, and T. Ragoza. In Class B were B. Coffin who was second in the 70 yard dash and third in the 60 yard dash, R. Gargiulo who tied for second place with an entry from Pacific Grove in the high jump, D. Villepondo, O. Jones, and D. Whitmer. In Class C were H. Gottfried who was third in the high jump, E. Passialaique, second in the 50 yard dash, G. Stoddard, S. Flavin, G. Miyiamoto, J. Handley, D. Appleton, K. Jones, D. Pelton, B. Wishart, B. Elias and Williams who tied for third place in the high jump.

M. H. Walker of the shoe shine emporium, reported this bit of news. Anna May Wong, famed Chinese actress of stage and screen, was in town last week. Walker had quite a long conversation with the chauffer who was most anxious not to have his mistress remain incognito.

Mrs. Frank Cole, a former Carmel resident of many years' standing, who is now living in San Juan Bautista, has announced that Saturday, she will officially open her tea room called, appropriately, La Casa Rosa. The structure which houses the tea room is one of the oldest in San Juan. Mrs. Cole has furnished it in the style of the 1850's in an effort to recapture a bit of the picturesque charm of that era of the old mission town. Mrs. Cole was known around these here parts as something of an epicure and without a doubt her new venture will prove a success, particularly if she serves her curries for which she is famous.

Aids Memorial Fund

Mrs. William Bensberg, one of the hostesses of the American Legion Auxiliary's Schumann-Heink Memorial Tea which was held at the Legion Club house Sunday afternoon.

Auxiliary Entertains

The American Legion Clubhouse was the setting for a tea which was held Sunday afternoon, with the Legion Auxiliary members as hostesses. The tea was given for the purpose of raising funds to be sent to the National Committee of the Schumann-Heink Memorial. The committee is composed of members of the veterans organizations of the United States which are endeavoring by popular subscription to obtain funds to erect a memorial to Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink. The minimum amount for the total collection has been set at $25,000. A Carillon tower, to be built in Balboa Park at San Diego, Madame Schumann-Heink's adopted home city, has been suggested as the form of the memorial.

Mrs. William Bensberg, Mrs. W. T. Davidson, Mrs. Rush Wallace, and Mrs. Martin Jonas Peterson comprised the reception committee.

During the course of the afternoon, recordings of Madame Schumann-Heink's voice were played.

Among those who attended the tea were Colonel and Mrs. Rush Wallace, Colonel and Mrs. W. T. Davidson, Commander and Mrs. Martin Jonas Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Frolli, Mr. and Mrs. Byington Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McIndoe, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore, Captain and Mrs. Gleason, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert John Morse, Mr. and Mrs. James Thoburn, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gottfried, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schrader, Mrs. Alfred Woolf, Mrs. M. V. B. MacAdam, Mrs. J. Cushing, Mrs. Jadne Seager, Mrs. Verne Regan, Mrs. Stella Mather, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Rice-Carter, Mrs. William Bensberg, Mrs. Markham Johnston, Mrs. Marie Gordon, the Misses Henderson and Miss Elaine Carter.

One of the most delightful affairs of the season was the fete, held Sunday afternoon in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. James Cockburn's house on Carmelo, in honor of the second birthday of Mr. and Mrs. Ranald Cockburn's daughter Lorraine.

The guests arrived promptly at 3:30. Following introductions among the younger set, the refreshments, ice cream, cake and milk, were served. A few of the guests found the ice cream a decided novelty and were quite at a loss as to its use, but solved the problem nicely by applying it, as cold cream, to their faces, legs and arms. One of the guests thought that the hostess' slice of cake was much nicer than her own and traded, but through the use of diplomacy the matter was settled amicably.

Miss Lorraine's guests were Miss Gay Masten, Miss Joan Burk, Miss Marcia Kuster and Mr. Warren Maten. Chaperones for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cockburn, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Burt, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Masten, Mr. and Mrs. Ranald Cockburn, Miss Mingdon Sheets, Mr. Peter Burk and Mr. Sherman Winslow.
